

THE CEMETERY ON RIPPEL ROAD

ABSTRACT

The old Jewish cemetery on Rippel Road lay abandoned for over fifty years. Recently it has been the focus of two projects: one to clear the overgrowth and reset the stones, and this one to document those interred there, along with a history of the cemetery and the congregation that established it.

The Cemetery on Rippel Road

Charles S. Fuller, White Oak, PA
Richard H. Katz, Torrance, CA

November, 2021

At the upper end of Rippel Road, in White Oak¹, is a Jewish cemetery that dates to the end of the nineteenth century. For years, it sat unnoticed behind a stone wall that runs along the edge of the road. The Ahavas Achim Cemetery, as it is now known, was recently restored by local volunteers after laying abandoned, overgrown with weeds and trees, for over 50 years. Within the last decade, the cemetery has been rediscovered, stripped of its opportunistic vegetation, and its history brought to light.

To date, no official records of the cemetery, or of the congregation at the time of its establishment, have been made known to this project. This account begins with the rediscovery of “the old Jewish cemetery on Rippel Road.”

Rediscovery

In December, 2012, after the vegetation had died back, gravestones once again became visible to those traveling up and down Rippel Road. Residents of the area – particularly some of the older members of the Jewish community – had been aware of the cemetery for years, but evidence of its existence was a revelation to the local author of this report. One clear winter day, he and his son parked above the cemetery and walked through the woods and brush to explore what they had seen from the road. What was found was a cemetery in disarray. Eight grave markers bearing Hebrew inscriptions were found -- five standing, one lying face-up, and two face-down in the dirt.

Photos were taken, and a record of the legible Anglo text from the stones was submitted to the Allegheny County Archives web site, a part of the USGenWeb Archives, in order to preserve the knowledge that had been acquired and to make it available to future researchers.

A modest effort to obtain more information about the cemetery turned up no concrete evidence of its history, or anything that those interred there may have had in common.

It was suggested, more than once, that these individuals may have been reinterred in the Jewish cemeteries collectively referred to as Elrod, a half mile to the west on Center Street. The Elrod Cemetery encompasses the burial grounds of a number of synagogues including Temple B’nai Israel², the Tree of Life Congregation³, Anshe Sfard⁴, and Gemilas Chesed⁵ (old). Members of Keshet Israel are also buried there, as Keshet Israel joined with Anshe S’fard to form the Keshet Israel Anshe S’fard Congregation⁶, which later joined with the Tree of Life Congregation to form Tree of Life S’fard. In addition, Temple B’nai Israel of Glassport purchased lots in the Temple B’nai Israel cemetery⁷. With all of the Jewish burials in the area consolidated in the Elrod property, it made sense, it seemed, that these few burials may have been relocated to one of the Elrod cemeteries and the gravestones left behind.

We now know that is not the case, and that the deceased members of Ahavas Achim remain at the Rippel Road location. Indeed, our research suggests that there may be more burials there than were initially identified.

² The formation of Temple B’nai Israel was first proposed via letter to McKeesport Jewry in 1912, per the history presented at the Temple B’nai Israel White Oak website, <https://tbiwhiteoak.org/>. Per that same site, six acres of land were acquired for the Elrod Cemetery in 1915.

⁷ Images of the checks drawn for the purpose are in the collection of the Rauh Jewish Archives, of the Heinz History Center, Pittsburgh, PA. From those checks, we can identify lots #185-191 (purchased 1915), 212-216 and 227-231 (1933), plus 224, 225, 225A, and 225B (1977) to have been purchased by Temple B’Nai Israel of Glassport.

Restoration

Fast-forward to 2018. Mark Pudlowski, founder of the Family of God Biblical Reasoning Center in White Oak⁸, happened upon the cemetery in the same manner. His efforts to identify an owner were not entirely conclusive, though he did obtain approval from the apparent owner, Gemilas Chesed, to clear the overgrowth and to reset the grave stones. Pudlowski enlisted friend Mike Lia and his son, Eagle Scout candidate Daniel Lia, for the project. Having reset a number of stones and cleared the cemetery of heavy brush and a number of mature trees, they established a 40'x40' boundary with the installation of a split rail fence. In order to make the area easier to maintain, they laid down a thick layer of mulch over a heavy layer of plastic. A 3-foot wooden Star of David, painted blue, was placed at the bottom of the cemetery, facing Rippel Road.⁹

The land, at this writing, is reportedly owned by “Elrod Cemetery,” though no evidence of the existence of any corporate entity by that name has been found in Allegheny County. It is under the care of the Jewish Cemetery and Burial Association of Greater Pittsburgh (JCBA).¹⁰

Origins

The history of the cemetery, and of the congregation which founded it, is somewhat murky. This, despite the fact that the establishment, utilization, and closing all took place within the relatively short timeframe of the last 130 years.

The dates associated with the Ahavas Achim congregation establish that shul as a part of the early history of the Jewish religion in McKeesport, having been founded only a few years after Gemilas Chesed, the first recognized synagogue in the city.

Around 1890, a group of members split off from Gemilas Chesed Anshe Ungarn (“Men of Hungary”, more formally, “Austro Hungarian Hebrew Congregation Gemilas Chesed”) in McKeesport to form the Ahavas Achim congregation. Our research has shown that many of the families of those buried in the Ahavas Achim Cemetery immigrated from the SubCarpathian region of Austria-Hungary. Indeed, many came from villages along the Tisza River, within 25 miles of the current village of Vylok (Tisza Uljak) in modern-day Ukraine. Nationality, once suspected to be the driving force behind the split, may not have been the primary reason. Local historian Sarah Landesman, in her 1954 work, suggests that dissatisfaction relative to the financial burden placed upon members of the larger synagogue may have been the motivating factor.¹¹

Regards the formation of Ahavas Achim Congregation, a petition was addressed in the Allegheny County Court of Common Pleas during the December term, 1890, “[i]n the matter of application for a Charter incorporating the “Ahavas Achem” (Brotherly Love) Congregation of the Borough of McKeesport, County of Allegheny, Pa.”¹² The place of business as stated is nondescript, given only as, “in the Borough of McKeesport, Allegheny, Pennsylvania.” Officers of the corporation were listed as follows:

President:	Benjamin Kraus	McKeesport, Pa.
Vice-President:	R. Simon	McKeesport, Pa.
Secretary:	Morris Markowitz	McKeesport, Pa.
Treasurer:	Leopold Rosenberg	McKeesport, Pa.
Trustees:	Morris Gross	McKeesport, Pa.
	Morris Weis	McKeesport, Pa.
	M. Solomon	McKeesport, Pa.

The petition for incorporation was approved by Judge Edwin H. Stowe, and recorded on November 10, 1890, with these words: “I hereby order and decree that the said Charter be and the same is hereby approved and that upon the recording of the same and this order the said subscribers thereto and their associates shall be and constitute a corporation by the name of “Ahavas Achim (Brotherly Love) Congregation” for the purposes and upon the terms therein stated.”¹³

The Ahavas Achim shul was moderately successful for a time, in that it existed as a separate entity for approximately 40 years. One item worthy of note is the visit to the McKeesport area, on May 29, 1921, of Dr. Samuel Reich, chief rabbi of Czechoslovakia, who delivered a lecture in the Ahavas Achim Synagogue¹⁴. By 1930, Ahavas Achim had run its course, and most of the remaining members are said to have rejoined the parent congregation, Gemilas Chesed.

Landesman wrote that the Ahavas Achim congregation “met in rented rooms on lower Market Street, then in Paw-Paw Alley.”¹⁵ Market Street has gone through several changes in the past 100 years, and Paw-Paw Alley no longer appears on the map of McKeesport. In 1900, Paw-Paw Alley was situated between and parallel to Fourth and Fifth Avenues, and ran from Walnut to Blackberry Streets, placing it just a block away from National Tube. Lyle Boulevard dominates that area of the map today.

The land for the cemetery was acquired, for the sum of $400, from William D. and Mary O. Peterson on December 29, 1891¹⁶. The 1.02-acre wedge of land between Rippel Road and Center Street was separated from a 108.5-acre plot that the Petersons had acquired 4 years earlier from Mary Smith, widow of John M. Smith¹⁷.

Four grantees' names appear on the deed: M. Weisy, Max Roth, J. Moskowitz, and Emanuel Glick.¹⁸ There is no indication that they represent any specific congregation or other organization. It is believed that M. Weisy is the same Morris Weis who was named a trustee on the Ahavas Achim charter. The other three names do not appear anywhere in the charter document.

Burials occupy the northern (lower elevation) boundary of the wedge, toward the western portion of the ground. The wall that fronts the cemetery presumably marks the portion of the land that was to be used for burials. It is approximately 125 feet long, with a set of steps at the upper (southern) end.

Known interment dates at the Ahavas Achim Cemetery range from 1902 through 1924, though it has been suggested that at least one interment may have taken place in 1926, and another in 1927.¹⁹ The death certificate for the latter of the two states the place of interment as the Patterson Cemetery, no further location given. Curiously, the word “Patterson” is hand-printed over the word “Elrod”. As no cemetery by that name has yet been found in the area, it is theorized that “Patterson” may have been a misremembering of the name “Peterson” that occurred through the years.

It is a long-held belief that following the dissolution of the congregation Ahavas Achim²⁰, ownership of the cemetery was transferred to Gemilas Chesed²¹. Though not conclusive, our research suggests otherwise. According to the county assessment for 2021, the property²² is owned by “Elrod Cemetery.” The last recorded sale date is December 29, 1891. It would appear, then, that what we now call the Ahavas Achim Cemetery may have been, at its inception, a part of the Elrod group of cemeteries. If true, that would explain the absence of need of a transfer when Ahavas Achim folded circa 1930.

We have been told that beyond the burials discussed here, no further expansion of the cemetery was attempted as the ground proved to be rocky, and excavation difficult.

Identified Interments

In early 2021, a chance conversation brought together the authors of this report, and a project to document the individuals interred at the Ahavas Achim Cemetery was begun. On the following pages are the results of that part of the project: a genealogy of those buried at Ahavas Achim, which seeks to illuminate their positions within their respective families.

¹⁹ Bergstein family lore strongly supports the idea of both a 1926 and a 1927 interment: the first, that of Emanuel Menyheart Bergstein (1911-1926), and the second, of his mother, Lena (Simon) Bergstein (1888-1927). Conclusive evidence has yet to be found for either. It should be noted that the records of the W.S. Willig Funeral Home, McKeesport, cite Lena Bergstein’s burial location as the Patterson Cemetery.

Joe Mendlovitz

Joseph Mendlovitz²³ was 19 years old at the time of his death, if we are to believe the inscription etched into his gravestone. His age is uncertain, however, as the Coroner's Report cites his age, provided by his brother, Henry, as 22. Joe was born in Hungary, the son of Asher Zelig and Blema (Smulowitz) Mendlowitz.²⁴ He was single, and worked as a laborer in one of the mills in the area. About a year before his death, he lost an eye in an industrial accident, and had been unable to obtain employment.²⁵ According to the Coroner's Report, on the morning of November 9, 1902, Joseph Mendlowitz ("Madlowitz") took his own life.²⁶

1. Joseph Mendlowitz, b. 1880 in Hungary, d. 9 Nov 1902 at home, 126 Market St., McKeesport, Allegheny, PA²⁷, buried in Ahavas Achim Cemetery, White Oak, Allegheny, PA.

²⁴ The relationship is inferred from the known relationships to two of his brothers, Henry and Charles, and their relationships to the parents.

Yehoshua ben Tzvi HaLevi

Yehoshua³⁰ was a young man when he died. He was the son of Tzvi, or Hersch in Yiddish. Yehoshua descends patrilineally from the family of Levi. His chosen Anglo name is not yet known, nor is the secular name of his father. The inscription on his grave marker is quite weathered, resulting in multiple interpretations of his death date. One reading yielded 6 Shevat 5660 (January 6, 1900). Another reading interpreted the semi-legible characters as 6 Tevet 5666 (December 6, 1906). Yet a third reading resulted in 6 Tevet 5686 (December 6, 1925).

1. Yehoshua ben Tzvi, d. 6 Jan 1900 (possibly 1906 or 1925), buried in Ahavas Achim Cemetery, White Oak, Allegheny, PA.

Parents

2. Tzvi, or Hersch in Yiddish.³¹
3. Unknown.

³⁰ Only his Hebrew name appears on his grave stone.

³¹ Tombstone inscription.

Leah bat Mordechai HaCohen

N.b.: The identification of Leah, the daughter of Mordechai, is not yet proven. What is presented here is a probable determination based on a correlation of information available at the time of our research.

The Hebrew inscription on the gravestone declares her “a modest and honest woman”, who died 10 Iyyar 5671 (7 or 8 May, 1911). Leah, whose secular name is not known, was the daughter of Mordechai.

The most probable match for Leah resulting from our research is Lena (Weiss) Kline, who lived in Glassport, Allegheny County, PA. Lena Weiss, whose married name was Kline/Klein, was the daughter of Max Wise/Weiss and Hattie Barkerwitz/Berkowitz. Lena died at home in Glassport on May 5, 1911, and was buried on May 7. From her obituary in the McKeesport Daily News, she “was a well known and respected resident of the borough for many years. Interment was made at the Hebrew cemetery at Ellrod [...]”.³²

1. Lena Weiss, b. ca 1839 in Hungary³³ (daughter of Max Wise and Hattie Barkerwitz)³⁴, d. 5 May 1911 at home, 717 Monongahela St., Glassport, Allegheny, PA,³⁵ buried 7 May 1911 in Ahavas Achim Cemetery, White Oak, Allegheny, PA.³⁶ She married _____ Kline, d. bef 1911.

Parents

2. Max Wise, b. in Hungary. He married Hattie Barkerwitz.³⁷
3. Hattie Barkerwitz³⁸, b. in Hungary.

¹⁹⁹ Place of birth, Tisza Ujlak, is inferred based on two sources: (1) brother, Louis', naturalization papers cite Tisza Ujlak as his POB, and (2) New York passenger list for mother, Ida, and siblings cites Tisza Ujlak as their last permanent residence. The assumption is made that the family lived in Tisza Ujlak since birth.

Unmarked / Unidentified Graves

Occasionally, during the conversations held as part of our research, someone would recall to us that there were “about 20” burials at Ahavas Achim. One recollection was quite specific: 17. Yet evidence existed to suggest only eight.

A small stone, 8”x2”, with only 3 inches visible above ground, had been photographed early in the project and disregarded as merely a plot marker. This small stone suddenly took on new significance when two taller, yet similar, stones were noticed just outside of the rightmost fence boundary.

The two stones, like the one shown in the photo at right, bear only an inscribed number. Only the tops of the digits “6” and “8” can be seen etched into this small stone without digging an inch or so into the soil. The two taller stones are inscribed with the numbers 152 and 158. The numbers are etched into the surface of the stone facing away from the road, which is the orientation of the face inscriptions on the known grave markers.

In the corner of the cemetery is a stack of stones, the significance of which had not been immediately recognized. It now became apparent that these stones were, in fact, identical to the two taller stones. It was further recognized that the small stone pictured above was actually the top of one of those numbered stones, the full length of which is almost two feet. It turns out that most of the stones in the stack are numbered, as well. The ones that are not numbered appear to be the lower fragments of the numbered stones.

Perhaps more importantly, it has been shown that the three in situ stones – the small one and the two taller ones – are roughly placed along a straight line, fairly equidistant from the wall at the front of the cemetery, ranging from 12 to 14 feet from the wall. If we can assume that all three are near their original locations, this suggests that the stacked stones may actually be grave markers, and that they may have, at one time, been in that same line as the three in situ stones. If that is the case, then there could be at least 18 burials at Ahavas Achim – 10 of which would have been marked with these austere, numbered, “slab” stones.

Similar stones can be found in the Keshet Israel Cemetery in Port Vue. Most of the Port Vue “slab” stones are in situ, and arranged in a row as one would expect to see grave markers. On that evidence, we conclude that the numbered stones at Ahavas Achim did, at one time, mark the locations of burials. The slab stones found at Ahavas Achim are inscribed with the following numbers: 62, 68, 73, 75, 79, 92, 119, 122, 152, and 158. Of those, only stones numbered 68, 152, and 158 are believed to be in situ as of this writing, though it is expected that the lower portions of the fallen stones may still be in place below ground.

Although the in situ stones provide only three data points, the order of the numbers suggests a chronological layout, with the older (lower-numbered) burials near the northern boundary. One is left with impression that these burials were done in haste, with no time allotted for a full inscription.

Who were the people that were buried in such a manner? Were they paupers? Were they children? Were these stones only temporary until the permanent stone could be erected? A number of theories were considered. One long-time resident of the area recalled being told that there were “children who died in the epidemic” buried at Ahavas Achim. This was echoed by another person in a separate conversation.

If we are to take those two recollections at face value, and if we presume that the Port Vue and Ahavas Achim stones were placed around the same time, then the question becomes, “which epidemic?” Much of southwestern Pennsylvania was beset by smallpox in 1904 and was besieged by the H1N1 “Spanish” flu in 1918. Within the context of epidemics, it is important to note that the land for the Kesher Israel Cemetery in Port Vue was purchased in 1907²³³, three years after the smallpox eruption.

There was also a period of time, from 1909 into 1911, during which scarlet fever reached near-epidemic levels of infection in McKeesport. A review of articles published in that era, though, reveals that measles was responsible for significantly more deaths in those years than scarlet fever. Typhoid fever, diphtheria, and other contagious diseases were a factor as well.

These findings suggest that the influenza epidemic is the more likely reason behind what appears to have been a series of hasty burials.

²³³ Jewish Cemetery and Burial Association. <https://icbapgh.org/cemetery-history/>

In addition to the numbered stones discussed above, there is one more unidentified grave at Ahavas Achim: a broken stone that presumably stands today in its original location, but which has defied all attempts to read its inscription. While Hebrew text can be seen on the face of the stone, it is badly worn, and the line of text that is expected to contain the name is below ground level. Sadly, the identity of this individual will not be known until new information comes to light.

Figure 9: The 8th stone, as yet unidentified

Conclusion

The initial goal of this project was to ascertain and to document the identities of those interred at the forgotten Ahavas Achim Cemetery. As such, the determination of whether or not the numbered “slab” stones once marked the burial locations of victims of a past epidemic is only secondary to ultimately identifying those buried beneath those stones.

No conclusion has been drawn concerning the numbered “slab” stones. Although it is fairly certain that they are grave markers, there has been no evidence found to suggest a date of interment. The simplicity of the stone and lack of inscription suggest expeditious burials, but it is recognized that other possibilities exist. Further research will be necessary to definitively establish the reason for the numbered markers, and the names of those whose memory they represent.

Of the eight standing stones, five have been conclusively identified. One, known only by her Hebrew name, has a ‘probable’ identification. Another is known only by his Hebrew name. Unfortunately, the name of the eighth individual is not visible on the stone as of this writing.

As this project developed, it became apparent that in order to understand the story of Ahavas Achim, one must first understand at least some of the history of the Jewish religion in McKeesport. Piecing it together, one realizes the impact that those first members of the Gemilas Chesed synagogue had on the establishment and expansion of the Jewish religion in McKeesport and, ultimately, in White Oak.

The founders of Ahavas Achim separated from the first and largest synagogue in McKeesport, and set out to build a new shul. They struggled with having no set meeting place of their own, yet somehow managed to purchase a plot of land in which to bury their members who had passed. It was not a prime piece of land, by any means. It is odd-shaped, hilly, and rocky beneath the sod. In recent years, that land has been revisited by Jews and Christians, for the purpose of preserving the memory of those interred therein. It is hoped that through this work, those buried at Ahavas Achim may once again find their place in the stories of their families.

Acknowledgements

A project of this type cannot be undertaken without the help of individuals and organizations, each of whom bring their pieces of the puzzle. We sincerely appreciate each and every one who took the time to talk with us, to share their knowledge, and to challenge our thinking at times. We would especially like to acknowledge the participation and ongoing assistance of two individuals without whom this project would not have proceeded at the pace that it did. Our thanks and admiration go out to:

Eric S. Lidjii, Director, Rauh Jewish Archives of the Senator John Heinz History Center

Barry Rudel, Executive Director, Jewish Cemetery and Burial Association of Greater Pittsburgh

Many other individuals contributed in various ways throughout the project, including: Jack Bergstein; Richard Bollinger; Laura R. Brooks, University of Pittsburgh, Archives & Special Collections; Gary Caldwell, Westmoreland County Coordinator, PAGenWeb Project; Kelsea Collins, Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania Department; Martha A. C. Graham, Allegheny County Coordinator, PAGenWeb Project; David Grinnell, University of Pittsburgh Library System, Archives & Special Collections; Alan Iszauk; Frank Kordalski; Irv Luzer; Mark Pudlowski; Rita Ungar, Office Manager, Gemilas Chesed; Gail Waite, Operations Assistant, and the staff at the McKeesport Regional History & Heritage Center; Scott Wallach; Sam Zolten, author and filmmaker, "Missing McKeesport"; and all of those anonymous people who took their time to talk with us about "the old Jewish cemetery on Rippel Road."

And finally, a debt of gratitude is owed our wives, Lisa and Vicki, for their enduring patience and support of our work in this endeavor these past few months.

APPENDIX II – Chain of Custody

N.b.: This is by no means an official chain of custody, and should not be cited as such. It was compiled by the author from the referenced deed books while researching the most recent sale, and may contain errors of transcription or interpretation either by the author or by previous transcribers. It is provided here for benefit of those who may be researching the lives of those named herein.

The land on which the Ahavas Achim Cemetery sits today has a documented history that begins in the eighteenth century with the survey of a 339-acre tract that came to be owned by Fauntley Muse Sr. He sold the property to his son, Fauntley Muse, Jr., who later purchased two adjoining tracts for a total of 553 acres. To wit:

In Allegheny County Deed Book Volume 172, on Page 40, can be found the following: “One of said tracts Containing Three hundred thirty nine acres 99 perches was surveyed by Benjamin Lodge Esq., deputy surveyor of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania on the 20th day of August 1786 to James Cochran in pursuance of an application made by him dated the 3rd day of April 1769 for said Tract number 803 Which tract of land by sundry conveyances and assurances in law became vested William Owings of the State of Maryland Esq. and said William Owings by his attorney James Ross of Pittsburgh Esq. duly constituted and appointed for that purpose did by his deed dated the 13th day of August A.D. 1807 Recorded in recorders office for said county of Allegheny in Book O page 471 &c convey said Tract of No. 803 unto Fauntley Muse Snr”.

On November 25, 1818, Fauntley Muse Sr. sold the 339 acres to Fauntley Muse Jr. as recorded in Deed Book A2 Volume 26 Page 212 &c. Quoting again from Allegheny County Deed Book Volume 172 Page 40, “in order to complete and perfect his title [Fauntley Muse Jr.] made application at the land office of Pennsylvania and obtained a Patent for himself for said tract of land [...] dated the 23rd November 1829 enrolled in Patent Book H Volume 28 page 11 for three hundred thirty nine acres and ninety nine perches [...]”.

This was the first of three adjoining tracts comprising the 553 acres alluded to earlier that were acquired by Fauntley Muse Jr. Deed Book Volume [DBV] 127 Page 39 &c records the sale of those three tracts to George A. Bayard in 1849. DBV 127 is used here as the source for information regarding the other tracts purchased by Fauntley Muse Jr.

“Another of said three tracts of land embraced in said survey became vested in Fautley Muse Jnr. [...] by the deed of William Irwin and Mary his wife dated the 4 of February 1819 duly executed and recorded in said county in Deed Book 4H vol 81 page 197 Containing one hundred thirty one acres fifty nine perches [...]”.

“The other of said three tracts of land Also embraced in the above survey Containing Eighty two acres more or less in a tract of land which Robert Smith late of Westmoreland County Pennsylvania died seized of in his demesne [by his Last Will and Testament dated May 21, 1831, recorded in Will Book No. 3 Page 356 &c] wherein he devised said tract to his nephew Robert Smith in trust for the benefit and use of the children of said Trustee [...]”. Robert Smith declined his trusteeship. Subsequently John M. Smith "did purchase the claims & interest of all the heirs being his brothers and sisters of and to said tract of land [...]".

This third tract remained in the hands of John M. Smith until it was sold by him and his wife, Mary, on November 8, 1847, to Fauntley Muse Jr. The sale of the land is said to be recorded in Deed Book 4H Volume 81 Page 198, per the text found in DBV 172 Page 40.

In 1849, the adjoined 3 tracts belonging to Fautley Muse Jr. were sold under one survey to George A. Bayard, who held the property until his death in March of 1866. George A. Bayard died intestate, leaving Ruth C. Bayard, relict, George A. Bayard, Stephen Bayard, Mary A. Bissell, and Anna C. Wick. The lands were amicably partitioned, with lot No. 4 (108.5 acres) of the George A. Bayard tract going to his son, Stephen Bayard. [DBV 282 Page 77]

Stephen Bayard and wife, Lucy T., sold the 108.5-acre property to John M. Smith on January 3, 1872. [DBV 282 Page 77]. Two years later, Frederick Roads, Administrator for John M. Smith, deceased, sold it to James O. Flower, for $6,000, the same amount paid by John M. Smith to Stephen Bayard. [DBV 323 Page 510]

James O. Flower defaulted, and the property was sold by the Allegheny County Sheriff "by public vendue or outcry" on September 4, 1882. The "high and best bid" of $50 was proffered by Mary B. Smith, the widow of John M. Smith. [DBV 448 Page 431; Sheriff's Deed Book Vol 4 Page 426]

On April 1, 1887, Mary B. Smith sold the property to William D. Peterson for $5,000. [DBV 578 Page 105]

The purchase of the property that was to become the Ahavas Achim Cemetery was concluded on December 29, 1891, and is recorded in Allegheny County Deed Book Volume 785 Page 34 &c. William D. and wife Mary O. Peterson sold, for $400, 1.02 acres at the southernmost point of their property to four grantees: M. Weisy, Max Roth, J. Moskowitz, and Emanuel Glick. The property was described as follows: All that certain lot or piece of land situate in Versailles Township County and State aforesaid and bounded by and described as follows to wit. Beginning at a post on William D. Peterson property thence N 3°30' W. one hundred and fifty seven and 1/10 feet (157 1/10 ft) to a post. Thence N 26°45' [sic; missing E] two hundred thirty two 1/10 feet to a post. Thence by said property N [sic; should be S] 34°23' E two hundred forty seven 1/10 feet (247 1/10) to a post and Thence S 55°37' W two hundred and eighty four feet (284 ft) to the place of beginning. Containing 1.02 acres. [DBV 785 Page 34]

Per the Allegheny County assessment for the year 2021, the most recent sale of Parcel ID 0554-H-00027-0000-00 with Property Address "Center St, Mc Keesport" was the one recorded on December 29, 1891. The owner is listed as "Elrod Cemetery."

Postscript

To guard against errors in this project, two genealogies were developed by two genealogists working independently, using two different methods. The results were merged, and any disagreements resolved using primary source evidence. The word “inferred” is used in this report to highlight those statements which are highly probable, but not fully supported by primary sources. There are very few of those.

Should you find an error in this report, or have need of further information, you may contact the authors (for the next few years, at least) via email at AACem.RippelRoad@gmail.com . (Careful with the spelling of Rippel.) Of course, comments and additional information will always be welcomed at that same address.
